From the Director

Many of you already have an acquaintance with MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS. As one of the all-time movie musical classics, it has been with us since the early 1940s. Over the years, attempts were made to adapt this beloved movie to the stage, and one finally arrived on Broadway in the late 1980s.

Our turn-of-the-century story revolves around the Smith family at a time when life was simpler, and family values were treasured. It is the story of a young St. Louis girl and her infatuation with the boy next door. It is the story of a family confronted with the life-altering news that father has accepted a transfer and the whole family must move to New York City. Leaving their friends is bad enough, but to miss the St. Louis World's Fair is tragedy. MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS, with its wonderfully nostalgic songs, is a musical filled with magic and memories.

Vince, Thelma, Debbie and I have assembled a cast ranging from high school students to old, old SLOC veterans to bring MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS to this stage. It has been a pleasure working with all of them. Ultimately, all is for your pleasure. Enjoy the show!

— ORLANDO J. PIGLIAVENTO

President's Message

Welcome to our second production of the 1999-2000 season! We had a great start with Shenandoah. We were adjudicated by the Theater Association of New York State (TANYS), and I am proud to announce we received four citations for Outstanding Costumes, Set Design, Ensemble Performance, and Outstanding Lead Actor. I hope everyone had a chance to see it.

I know that the show you will see tonight will be equally as spectacular. What could be more appropriate for the holiday season than a story about young love, family bonds and friendship? Add a trolley, and it becomes perfect!

As we bring the 1990s to a close, we are busy preparing for the rest of this season and for many more seasons in the future. Your support by attending our award-winning productions and your generous donations are always appreciated and allow us to continue providing quality musical theater to the Capital District. We look forward to seeing you back here again in the year 2000.

Enjoy your holidays and this wonderful holiday present we give to you.
— TOM HECKERT, SLOC President (1999-2000 Season)
